The Reds Win a Victory Over the Bines-Score, 7 to 5-The Oneidas Get Away with the Eagles, 19 to 5.

The game of base-ball yesterday, at Central park, between the Reds and the Blues was very exciting, and resulted in favor of the Reds by a score of five to seven. The Reds scoring the runs that gave them the game in the ninth inning on errors of the Blues. Two men were out and two on bases, an easy grounder hit to third base, neatly picked up but weakly thrown to first base, gave the runner a life, and a base hit following brought two men to the home plate. A SHAMEFUL CASE.

Oxford (Miss.) Clarion.]

Farmer Elope with his Wife and Step-Daughter. From the report that reaches us, it and Pailip Jackson. The first was a South Carolinian, about thirty-five years of age; the latter, an Englishman, about twenty-three. It seems that Mr. Williams suspected that an undue intimacy existed between his wife and the man Orr, and upon charging her with infi-delity she firmly denied it. To relieve his family from the presence and influence of the man Orr, Mr. Williams concluded to remove his family from Tyro to Waul's Hill. Getting his wife's conafter an absence of a day or two, when he returned for his wife and children, to find that the two men and his entire family had departed in his absence for parts unknown. Mr. Williams, being a man of moderate means, was not able to pursue them at once, but caused inquiries to be set on foot which resulted in disclosing the fact that they had gone to Holmes county. Mr. Williams then proceeded to Lexington, where he found Orr, Jackson, his wife and step-daughter. Jack-son and Mrs. Williams were living as man and wife, under the name of Mr. and Mrs. Margetts. Mr. Williams had the two men arrested-Margetts for unlawful cohabitation with the mother, and Orr for the seduction of the daughter, who is only about fourteen years of age. Margetts was tried, convicted and sentenced to five months imprisonment in the county fail. It appears that, as far as his wife was concerned, Williams's suspicions pointed to the wrong man. The charge against Orr was dismissed for want of sufficient evidence.

curred by reconstructed legislatures, have been repudiated on technical grounds of unconstitutionality. In others the alleged inability of the people to pay taxes has been made as a pretext "scaling" the State debt in most infamous fashion and for otherwise discarding burdens which had been legally assumed under Republican administration. The bad faith involved in these proceedings is not lessened by the plea that the reconstructed governments incurred dept extravagantly. The securities that were repudiated or "scaled" were in the hands of bona fide and innocent holders. Some of those who advocated the robbery were not ashamed to say that the debts incurred under the reconstructed governments should perish with them; and everywhere, from Virginia to Alabams, the new version of the old doctrine of rascality which Jeff Davis inculcated in the case of Mississippi had Democratic defenders. THE CANVASS OPENED.

Speech of Major W. J. Sykes at Huntingdon-A Large Crowd Present and Much Enthusiasm Mauifested.

The Federal Debt and Federal Tayation-What the People Need-Tilden's Policy-The People Demand a Change.

From an Occasional Correspondent of the Appeal.] HUNTINGDON, TENN., August 7.-The announcement that Major Sykes would address the people of this place called together a large concourse of citizens from the town and country. The letters of acceptance just published by Tilden and Hendricks have inspired our people with enthusiasm and faith in their election, and they listened with thoughtful attention to the very able speech which Major Sykes delivered. I give you below a synopsis of the speech. Major Sykes said:

FRILOW - CITIZENS OF CARROLL COUNTY-It affords me much pleasure to comply with your request, and to ad-dress you upon subjects deeply interesting to us all. I shall do so without the use of any harsh epithets, or any offensive language. I will appeal to the good sense, enlightened judgment and ele-vated patriotism of all, Republicans as well as Democrats. We have a common interest and a common country. Whatever injures one will injure another, and what benefits the Republican will benefit the Democrat. We are all alike interested in the preservation of national and of State credit, for all, Republicans and Democra's, should cherish the honer of our common Union and maintain the character of our noble State. THE DEET OF THE UNITED STATES GOV-ERNMENT will be paid, whether we desire it or not I shall not undertake to discuss whether it was properly or improperly contracted. It is the debt of our government, and we must and should meet it in good faith. The constitution of the United fourteenth amendment, which we are all bound to support, says, "the validity of the public debt shall not be questioned," and all parties in this country are pledged, and are in honor bound, to support it. By a reduction in the expenditures of the government, by a modification of the tariff laws, and by a change in our banking system, relief may be given, but it is useless to talk or to think of not paying the national debt. Every effort made in that direction will be regarded as evidence of our disloyalty to the government, and will be considappears that Mr. D. H. Williams, of Tyro, some fifteen miles west of here, had in his employ two men, N. D. Orr ernment, not to follow the teachings of any man who will try to induce you to violate your plighted faith and place yourselves in apparent antagonism to the Federal government. While this debt must be paid, it is very important to see how it may be done without laying heavy burdens on the people. need, and must have, an honest and economical administration of the government; we must have a reduction of expenditures in all the departments. sent to the change of residence, he went | Can this be done? Most assuredly. to the latter place to prepare for the fam- The total receipts into the Federal treasily. Imagine his surprise and feelings, ury in the year ending June 30, 1873, were $322,177,673; in 1873-4 they were $294,000,000, and the estimated receipts in 1875-6 are $297,000,000. Of this amount $30,000,000 are for pensions and $103 000 000 for interest on the public debt, making $133,000,000 for interest and pensions, and leaving $164,000,000 for ordinary expenses. In the year 1860 the ordinary expenses did not exceed $60,000,000, and if we add $40,000,000 on account of the growth of the country and the increase of population, which is far too large an estimate, there will still be left $64,000,000, which might be saved and applied to the extinguishment of the public debt. Again, with an economical administration the credit of the government would be so well established that enough means might be obtained on four per cent, bonds to pay off all the five and six per cent, bonds outstanding. While we have no right to force the holders of six per cent. bonds to take four per cent. bonds for them, yet we have the legal and the moral right to raise the money upon four per cent. bonds and pay off the five and six per cent. bonds, and this is what Samuel J. Tilden will do if elected. The policy of the Damocratic party is to pay off the national debt, and not let it remain as an incubus upon the industrie of the country. This is to be done by economy, and by a reduction of interest, in the manner indicated. The Democratic party is now, and always has een, opposed to a permanent national debt; and, while it is opposed to repudiation in every form, it is for relieving the people as much as possible. Governor Tilden did for New York President Tilden will do for the United States. As he reduced the expenditures of New York near one-half, or eight million of dollars per annum, so will be reduce the expenditures of the general government from fifty to one hundred million per annum. In that way the national debt will be paid economy in the government and by the increase in the wealth of the country if we can have a Democratic administration during this period. The Re-publican party has had control of the government during the last ten years of uninterrupted peace; all of their measures have been adopted; their reconstruction policy and their financial system, and behold the results. Notwithstanding the great wealth and vast productions in 1870, which amounted to thirty billions of dollars worth of real and personal estate, $4,232,415,412 of manufactures, and $2,407,841,653 of farm products, in one year our country is full of pecuniary distress; all our industries are more or less paralyzed; our factories silent; our fields deserted, or yielding but poor profits. This is unnatural and anomalous. We are starving in the midst of abundance. Like Tantalus, with water all around us, we are dying with thirst. This is ewing to their mis management and bad government. Let us see

Upon six articles, or rather classes of articles, woolen and cotton goods, leather, iron, steel and sugar, the duties amounted to $80,370,000, in one year, of which Tennessee paid $2,975,999. The indirect tax paid American manufacturers upon woolen and cotton goods and iron, of which the general government receives nothing, was in one year: Woolen Goods-Amount, $173,298,527 duty, $57,766,175; Tennessee's portion, $1,735,538

Cotton Goods-Amount, $177,908,687; duty, $29,659,614; Tennessee's portion, Iron-Amount, $348,032,910; duty. $56,005,485; Tennessee's portion, $4,933,-

There are only three of the articles upon which we pay duty to the manufacturers in the way of enhanced prices, although the government does not get one dollar that we pay upon American salt, sugar, leather, rice, and various other articles of prime necessity, which are not mentioned; but Tennessee's por istics of the Democratic party. It has always assumed to be the champion, which, added to the amount she pays directly upon the six other arit has always contrived to find in that | ticles mentioned amounts instrument exactly what at the moment it wanted for the accomplishment of its into the United States treasury amount to near seven dollars per head of the actual population of the whole country, and this makes $10,000,000 for the people of Tennessee, besides taxes

the people, compared with which our istration the tariff laws will be modified, and the duties reduced. If the people of these United States desire reduced taxes, an honest and economioperating allke on all sections, they will elect Tilden and Hendricks. The people of the south desire a restoration of the Union, in feeling and in interest, in af- | u9 fection as well as in name, and therefore they deprecate all war issues, all sectional questions, and they accept, and intend to carry out in good faith, all the amendments to the constitution. The true issues of the approaching canvass: Administration reform, reduction in the expenditures of government, honesty in public officials, and a return to the economies and prac-tices of the better days of the republic. We must not permit our attention to be drawn from these questions by any mere side issues. An honest, pure, eco nomical government is what we need, and must have, if the people desire prosperity in private life or reputation in public affairs. In regard to the question of currency, it is only necessary to say that the Democratic ad-ministration will return to a sound currency by the most prudent means, so as not to disturb the business interests of the country. They will adopt no wild, visionary schemes, but will act prudently and cautiously upon this delicate and important question. In the language of Governor Tilden, in his message to the New York legislaure, January 4, 1876: "The treasury has only, by gradual and prudent measures, to provide for the payment of such por-tion of the outstanding treasury notes as the public, not wishing to retain for use, will return upon it for redemption. The sum required in coin, if the preparations be wisely conducted so as to secure public confidence, will be what is necessary to replace the fractional currency and to supply such Individuals as prefer coin to paper for their little stores of money; and also what is necessary to constitute a central reservoir of reserves against the fluctuations of international balances and for the banks." sentiments were expressed in his mes sage of January 5, 1875. "The exact time of actual resumption, the process, the specific measures, the discreet preparations-these are business questions to be dealt with, in view of the state of trade and of credit operations in our own country, the course of foreign commerce and the condition of the exchanges with other nations, the currents of the precious metals, and the stocks from which a supply would flow witchut undue disturbance of the markets of other countries. These are matters of detail, to be studied on the facts and figures. They belong to the domain of practical administrative statesman-

From these messages it appears he is not in favor of dispensing with what is called a greenback currency, but in favor of making it equal to gold.

Parties are to be tried by the results of their policy, and when tested by this standard what becomes of the Republican party. Silent factories, closed workshops, deserted fields, thousands of men and women thrown out of employment are their fruits. We must reverse this picture. If we desire to see our factories, now closed, sgain vocal with the music of the spindle and of the loom; our fields, now comparatively deserted, again teeming with abun dance; our industries, now paralyzed, sgain full of life and activity, and the sun of prosperity again shining upon our great, but now stricken land, we must cell upon all men everywhere in these United States to rally to the standard of the statesmen of New York and Indiana, Samuel J. Tilden and Thomas A. Hendricks. We need a change; a change from corruption to honesty, from extravagance to economy, from hard times to good times, from adversity to presperity, from gloom to hope, from Grant to Tilden.
